

The Figure Skating Brief

Your Place for Daily Updates

Who We Are

The Figure Skating Brief is your place for updates concerning the sport. We also include information concerning figure skating history and notable contributors to the sport. We give live updates on competition results, top competitors in the world, and even camps that are available for all to participate in!

We strive to help figure skaters in their journey and to help them learn more about the sport. We hope you will check out our website and leave us with any feedback to help us improve our website.